Stage Introduction

Jessica Kriegel (KREE-guhl) is a workplace culture strategist and the Chief Scientist of Workplace Culture at Culture Partners. She is a Fortune 100 Thought Leader and International Keynote Speaker. She is a regular contributor to CNN, Fox Business, CNBC and more. Her work is frequently published in The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, and Harvard Business Review, to name a few.

Jessica's passion and expertise is around creating intentional cultures that power strategy and drive performance. Her quantified approach to culture management seeks to demystify culture to drive real results. She has partnered with clients such as Toyota, Amazon, Lockheed Martin, and Bank of America and more.

This methodology has helped companies such as Dominoes achieve the highest year-over-year increase in the fast food industry in history, and Johnson & Johnson gain $2B in product revenue.
